24. When january of 1862 came, the 19th tennessee infantry took part in the battle of fishing creek. general zollicoffer had made his winter quarters on the north bank of the cumberland river. the federals, under general thomas, were not more than twenty miles from fishing creek. one bitterly cold january night the confederates moved out to attack general thomas. the rain and sleet fell in a steady downpour; the wind blew and howled. with firm tread and unflinching heart the confederates marched toward the enemy. they hoped to surprise the enemy and to win a great victory.

25. Isabel smith, while lying in bed, sick with tuberculosis, did not waste away. she studied and became knowledgeable in many areas. Perhaps one of her favorite history stories was john rhea, hero of fishing creek. Classic poems such as the rime of the ancient mariner must have kept Isabel's mind busy. She may have memorized the "cowboy code" and the pledge of allegiance. Her parents usually visited her on sundays, and Isabel was able to share with them what she had learned that week. christmas in december was Isabel's favorite holiday. She and her parents celebrated joyfully. "the time is drawing near when we shall celebrate christmas. i am looking forward to our holiday season together," she once wrote to her father. "you and mother bring me such joy," she wrote, "thank you for your love and devotion."

26. The poem written by Katharine Lee Bates and sung by Ray Charles was "America, the Beautiful." Below are the first and third stanzas:

o beautiful for spacious skies,

for amber waves of grain,

for purple mountain majesties

america! america!

god shed his grace on thee

and crown thy good with brotherhood

from sea to shining sea!

o beautiful for heroes proved

in liberating strife

who more than self the country loved and mercy more than life!

may God thy good refine till all success be nobleness

and every gain divine!
